

Tim Catchim

Author Practitioner Coach

Tim grew up largely in the metropolitan region around Washington D.C. His leadership experience includes working with at-risk youth, campus ministry, urban and semi-urban church planting, disciple making, team building, as well as designing and delivering scalable training systems, competency based coaching, and customized consulting services.

Having co-authored The Permanent Revolution: Apostolic Imagination and Practice for the 21st Century Church with Alan Hirsch, Tim has been applying APEST in a variety of contexts for over 10 years now.

As a reflective practitioner, he brings a depth of knowledge and wisdom about APEST that few can offer. Here's what others are saying:

"What I appreciate most about Tim's coaching is his ability to actively listen to concerns or descriptions of situations, ask all the right questions, and provide practical tools to support growth and change."

Deb Port United Methodist Church Pastor ♡ Harrisburg, PA

"After a year of coaching with Tim, the biggest difference is the depth of understanding of Jesus and the five-fold gifts. But not just information, it is the practical application in helping others live out APEST inside and outside faith communities."

Greg Murray Una Hill Teaching & Missions Pastor ♡ Melbourne, Australia

OUTCOMES

Apex coaching is designed to cultivate seven developmental outcomes

GREATER AWARENESS of the Biblical foundation of APEST in Ephesians 4:1-16, with an emphasis on original languages, in depth definitions, and the wider context of Ephesians as a whole.

DEEPER APPRECIATION for developmental frameworks, with an emphasis on the new humanity of Christ as the archetype for health and maturity.

HIGHER APTITUDES in coaching to outcomes, with an emphasis on how to effectively assess personal, team, and organizational APEST profiles and maturity levels of those you are training.

CLEARER ASSESSMENT of your own personal coaching style, with an emphasis on identifying strengths, weaknesses, and growth points of that style.

STRONGER ADVOCACY for APEST expressions in and through the body, with an emphasis on the necessity of APEST equipping for system wide health and maturity.

CLOSER ALIGNMENT between current training strategies and transformative learning experiences, with an emphasis on scalable equipping processes.

WIDER APPLICATION of equipping processes across and beyond the organization, with an emphasis on strategies for starting, sustaining, and scaling APEST micro-cultures.

COACHING STORIES

Some leaders share thier experience with Tim:

"I would recommend Tim as an APEST coach because he has a sound grasp of the theology and is very practical in applying the teaching which is mainly found in Ephesians 4. He listens well to understand our contexts and our challenges and provides helpful insights for us to take the teaching and apply it in our own situations - which were all different in our cohort."

Michael Grechko Neuma Church Executive Pastor of Teaching, 📍Melbourne, Australia

"Tim's depth of knowledge instilled a fresh confidence in the potential of the church when every member is functioning as a part of the whole. His teaching combined academic excellence with practical application. I consider it to have been a great privilege to have sat under Tim's teaching.

Dave Heasler Callings Coach at Heasler Coaching
📍Winnipeg, Canada

After one year of coaching with Tim, I feel like I have a greater and more nuanced understanding of APEST. Not only do I better understand myself, but I better understand those whose gifting is far different than mine. This has helped me to be a better collaborator, leader, coach and consultant.

Dylan Does Coach and Consultant at Fit & Flourish
📍Blaine, Minnesota
